Obedience is a learned behavior.

Today, most people see the world through the lens of self – “How does this make me feel”, or more directly, “What’s in it for me?” The concepts of humility and obedience are not only unfashionable in today’s culture, but downright offensive – “You’re going to tell me what to do?”

Thank God for you who are faithful believers, thinking outside yourselves and to the interests of others. We have an excellent role model for this – in Hebrews 5 we read the following: “In the days of His flesh, Jesus offered up prayers and supplications...and He was heard because of His reverence. Although He was a son, he learned obedience through what he suffered.”

Thus, we find that obedience is a learned behavior. Let’s make it a point this week to show more obedience to God, and more grace to one another.
